

DISCLAIMER

In the gathering of information, Vandeputte Safety pays much attention to its correctness and completeness. The contents of this website are checked with the greatest care and updated daily.

However, it might be possible that some information is out of date, incorrect, or lacking.

Vandeputte Safety cannot be held responsible for the consequences of the use of this website. Also it is not possible to derive any rights of any kind from the contents of this website.

The texts and graphics on the website may not be published or duplicated without written permission from Vandeputte Safety.