

The window to your heart...?

Dear Colleague,

Although our focus is increasingly on safety, inattention still appears to be one of the main causes of accidents in the workplace. Consequently, let us pause to consider the consequences, both professional and private, of accidents at work.

During this campaign we shall concentrate on our eyes and what the consequences could be if we don't wear proper facial protection. Looking at photos, reading, looking someone in the eyes are all things in your everyday life that you put on the line.

Attentiveness is crucial when it comes to wearing the proper protective clothing, both in the place of work and outside, at all times and wherever you may be. We all know what it feels like to get something in your eye but imagine what it feels like if it cannot be removed.

They say love is blind, but what if this is more than just something people say.

Do you want to decide for yourself what you look at? If so, then make sure you wear the proper facial protection! If you are unsure go to your prevention adviser for information on the best protection for your particular work situation.

Yours sincerely,

The management
